“ In a confusing world, with high stresses, Christians know that our model for doing life right is Jesus Christ. However, learning the how of living like Jesus can often be confusing in and of itself, and we wonder where to start. The authors of this book have provided a clear biblical path for the reader, in showing how Jesus was the perfect example of emotional intelligence, and then following up with specific assessments, behaviors, skills and tools to get us on our way. You’ll find your own situation in the many scriptural case studies, and answers for your own how.”

—John Townsend, Ph.D., Author of the New York Times bestselling Boundaries series, Psychologist Founder, Townsend Institute for Leadership and Counseling, and the Townsend Leadership Group
