

Dr. Estella Chavous MBA, EdD is lecturer for Emotional Intelligence in Christ

Dr. E is an experienced educator, speaker, communicator, global marketer, and wellbeing consultant. She is currently a global communications lead for AVEVA based in the Netherlands, an Adjunct Professor at Umass Global, an Inside Timer Meditation Trainer, Speaker, and Published author. Estella has significant professional experience in education, sales, and marketing, working in strategic leadership positions for Fortune 500 companies, including Abbott, Amgen, Bristol Myers-Squibb, and Schneider-Electric. Her ministry is incorporated daily into her corporate, business, and personal activities.

Rich Cummins MAOL, CFRE, is lecturer for Emotional Intelligence in Christ

With over twenty-five years of senior leadership and C-suite experience, Rich is a lifelong learner passionate about developing people and organizations while cultivating cultures built on relationships, service, and excellence. Currently, Rich serves as the President and CEO of Lead Like Jesus, a global leadership training and equipping organization with ministry centers in 24 nations. He also hosts the Lead Like Jesus Podcast: Where Leadership Starts on the Inside. He is an Executive Coach and adjunct professor in Organizational Leadership and Executive Coaching & Consultation at Concordia University Irvine.

Lauren E Miller M.Ed, MSC, ICF-PCC, is lecturer for Emotional Intelligence in Christ

As a stress relief expert, award-winning author, motivational speaker, HRD trainer, Edge God In podcast host, and certified executive and life coach, Lauren facilitates fun process-driven programs with guidance, support, and accountability, creating positive, sustainable behavioral change in business and personal life. Lauren has worked in youth and adult ministries for over 30 years. Through God's mercy, grace, and strength, she uses her experience simultaneously conquering two of life's top stressors: cancer and divorce, to help others destress and successfully move through challenges.

Ken Voges is the founder and President of In His Grace, Inc., a human resource consulting company, is lecturer for Emotional Intelligence in Christ

Ken was an elder at BridgePoint Bible Church for 40 years. As a Biblical behavioral scientist, he became acquainted with the DISC behavior model some 42 years ago, authoring numerous DISC assessments, books, and workbooks on the subject. In working with the Lead Like Jesus ministry, he authored an online, 46-page Biblical Behavior Assessment. The latter product allows individuals to match their behavior with a positive biblical model. His passion has been to cross historical reference figures, including biblical characters, Presidents, military leaders, and one of the 16 Classical Behavior profiles. For the past 30 plus years, Mr. Voges has been a part of the DMin program at Dallas Theological Seminary, focusing on team-building models found in the Bible.